

Proceedings of the 133rd Annual Convention
The Episcopal Church in Colorado
A Future with Hope

October 8-10, 2020
A Statewide Virtual Event

Opening Worship: Thursday, October 8, 2020 via video by Christ Church, Denver

Lay delegates, clergy, alternates, and visitors participated remotely in the opening Eucharist of the Convention. The Right Rev. Kimberly D. Lucas served as preacher and celebrant. The Bishop welcomed all online via YouTube, Facebook Live, and the convention webpage to Christ Church in Denver, where we celebrated the Convention Opening Eucharist last year. Parishes representing every region of the Diocese participated in the homily. She spoke of the love and care of the Body of Christ as we celebrate the Word in this time of the pandemic. She shared testimonials from across the Diocese. "We are not being called to survive; we are being called to live." The open worship service can be viewed at www.youtube.com/watch?v=ruEUXhAnEzA.

Convention Keynote Address: Friday, October 9, 2020
Via Zoom Webinar

The Rt. Rev. Robert Wright presented the keynote address. He has served as the 10th Bishop of Atlanta since 2012. In her introduction, Bishop Kym remarked on his passion for the Gospel and his agitation for the way we work.

Drawing from the text of Jeremiah, Bishop Wright spoke of God's presence and how it is reflected in our work in the world. God is alive and active and has a future for us. Hope in God isn't optimism; it is a reflection of our experience. But hope is a team sport – which is why we need each other as a diocese, parishes, and communities.

Joined by Bishop Kym for a panel discussion, the bishops extended these themes. We have opportunities for evangelism in how we live our lives. Look at church more as a refueling station rather than something to be protected and polished. The Eucharist is to prepare us to engage in the world. All of our experience is formation and prepares us for that engagement.

The evening concluded with Compline, led by the Rev. Krista Dias and the Rev. Reagan Humber.

General Session: Saturday, October 10, 2020 via Zoom Meeting open to all delegates

Organization of the Convention

The Rev. Mary Kate Rejouis welcomed delegates online, asked that each participant include their parish in the way they are named on-screen, described how to use the features in Zoom to move or second a motion, and how to use a Zoom Poll.

The delegates participated in an online Morning Prayer service, organized by the Rev. Krista Dias and the Rev. Reagan Humber, and led by clergy and lay delegates throughout the Diocese.

The Rt. Rev. Kimberly D. Lucas called the Convention to order at 10:35 am. The following actions were taken without objection to organize the Convention:

- The Bishop appointed Chuck Theobald Secretary of the Convention
- The Bishop appointed Diocesan Chancellor Lawrence R. Hitt II Parliamentarian of Convention.
- The Bishop appointed the Rev. Rich Paul as Assistant Secretary of Convention.

- The Rev. Nancey Johnson Bookstein was appointed as Chair of the Committee on the Conduct of Nominations and Conduct of Elections.
- The Rev. Wendy Huber was appointed as Chair of the Committee for Legislation and Resolutions. Larry Hitt was appointed consultant to the Committee.
- The secretary reported that a quorum was present in both the Clergy and Lay orders for the Convention.
- The Bishop called upon the parliamentarian for a report on the Proposed Rules of Convention. Mr. Hitt described the rules, which had been posted on the Convention web page. Though not required, all actions of this Convention will also be ratified at the 134th Convention. The Bishop asked for a motion to approve the rules. The rules were adopted as read.
- The secretary moved the adoption of the agenda as printed. The agenda was adopted.
- The secretary stated that the Committee to Approve the Minutes of the 132nd Convention had approved the minutes of that Convention as posted. He requested the chair receive those minutes. Without objection, the minutes were received.

The Bishop then declared the 133rd Convention organized for business.

The Bishop invited the delegates to take a ten-minute break.

Treasurer's Report and Proposed 2021 Budget

Bishop Lucas called the Convention back to order at 11:09 am.

The Bishop introduced the treasurer for his report. Mr. Jay Swope reviewed his written report submitted prior to the Convention and available on the convention web page. For 2019, the final net deficit was about $53,000, or about 1.9% of budgeted expenses. Despite the challenges of the pandemic, the 2020 year-to-date income (including a federal Payroll Protection Program loan that is eligible to be forgiven) and expenses are on track. Any net savings on the expense side due to restrictions in activities will be reserved against future expense. The budget for 2021 reflects lower revenues as projected by congregational leadership, as well as the reductions to staff in the Office of the Bishop that have been implemented. No general salary increases are anticipated, though increased health insurance costs have been included.

Because the audit of the 2019 financial report has not been completed, acceptance of the report was deferred to the 134th Convention.

The approval of the proposed 2021 budget was then moved, seconded, and approved without further discussion.

The Bishop's Convention Address

Bishop Lucas recalled her experience of the walkabout tour of Colorado as part of her discernment in her calling as a bishop. She noted that there was no mention of a global pandemic in the diocesan materials that had been prepared. It is our love for one another that equips us for these days. The body of Christ has endured much: persecution, wars, plagues, crusades, reformation, pandemic. We can endure this if our hearts are centered on Jesus. "He is the Way, and his way is the Way. The way of love. The way of forgiveness. The way forward will be rocky, but we can manage. "I am glad we are together. It will be worth the journey."

At the conclusion of her address, the Bishop announced a 5-minute break.
